

PROTECTIVE RECIPROCITY.

The distinguished Secretary of State has been persuaded to write a letter to an Ohio editor explaining how he came to withdraw his objections to the McKinley tariff act. There is nothing new in what he says. While the caucus tariff bill was pending in the Senate, after passing the House, Mr. Blaine wrote to "Dear Mr. Frye" for the purpose of securing an amendment looking to the removal of the tariff on American flour and pork imported into Cuba and the other Spanish islands, in consideration of our removing the tariff on sugar from these islands. Whatever Mr. B. may say now, there was a cynical sneer in the epistle at the stupidity which failed to provide for this in the body of the bill. It was a hostile shot at McKinley and the House Republicans, revealing the infirmity of the act, and striking it between wind and water. Under the pretense of assisting McKinley now, in his campaign for the Governorship of Ohio, Mr. Blaine is desirous that the public shall know it was he, the Maine statesman, who saved that particular measure from obloquy and disgrace.

It is a cheerful sign that from the adjournment of Congress last year to the present time, the whole intellectual and tactical strength of the Republican party has been engaged in defending and finding excuses for the McKinley bill. From going into the Presidential canvass of 1888 with the banner of protection full high advanced and defiant, they are crawling on their hands and knees and declaring that their pet policy really means the same as free trade. Had the elections of last Fall gone their way, they would now be as insolent and aggressive as ever; but the knowledge that the people have decreed the prohibition tariff shall be no more, has developed a less bold behavior. Their proud waves have been stayed.

Mr. Blaine has made no change in his protection ideas. To his "Dear Mr. Frye" he said: "I don't doubt that in many respects the tariff bill pending in the Senate is a just measure, and that most of its promises are in accordance with the wise policy of protection." No one believes that the Secretary has changed or modified his views in that regard. Indeed, his so-called reciprocity scheme, limited and unequal in its application as it is, is in pursuance of the protection course he has followed for the greater part of his public life. This is the policy of promoting the prosperity of the northeastern section at the expense of all other sections of the country. The very reciprocity he writes about to the Ohio editor is intended to give the Northwestern manufacturer free trade in the cheap foreign materials they use in their industries; for it is a curious fact that whilst his proposition extends to several countries whose exports compete with the products of Western farms, it carefully excludes all countries whose exports would compete with Northeastern manufacturers. It is not permitted us to have free exchange with people whose products would come in competition with our own. The West and South must bear all the burdens of a general policy of protection and all the evils of special reciprocity—and the favored Northeast must monopolize whatever special benefits are to be got out of either.—Salt Lake Herald.

CALIFORNIA BOODLERS.

The Stockton Alliance says: "Faylor, the man who managed the Senatorial combine at Sacramento last Winter, says the corrupt association cleared $150,000 and then refused to pay him his pro rata. Dan Burns, another San Francisco political manager, appears to corroborate Faylor's statement. Faylor claims that each of the twenty-four Senators in the combine received $1,000 for his vote to defeat Senator Berry's railroad assessment bill. This measure provided for the assessment of all the railroads in the State delinquent in taxes, and had it passed the Southern Pacific would have been compelled to pay $2,000,000. The bill was defeated.

"Senator McGowan introduced a measure known as the 'County Mutual Insurance Bill,' which merely permitted people to form insurance associations and insure their own property and avoid the excessive rates of the insurance trust. Each of the twenty-four Senators received $1,000 for voting against this bill.

"Upon passing the Glen county bill each was to receive $450, but afterwards demanded $350 additional apiece. To kill what is known as the pilot bill each received $500, says Faylor. He also claims money was paid for votes on the Riverside county bill. The gamblers had to pay Faylor's combine $250 apiece to get Bruner's gambling bill through. Thanks to Governor Markham, who vetoed the bill, the gamblers lost their money."

The Irrigation Congress.

Special to the Journal.

OMAHA, October 22.—At the opening of the afternoon session it was announced that the next meeting of the Congress would be held at New Orleans February 13th to 16th next. Colonel Doniphan of Mississippi spoke in favor of free and unlimited coinage. Dr. Miller of Omaha spoke for an honest dollar, and was followed by Senator Warren of Wyoming, who favored free and unlimited coinage for the products of United States mines. The vote on the majority report favorable for the free coinage of silver for the American product only resulted in 102 for and 45 against.

The report of the Committee urging upon Congress the practicability and necessity of the encouragement of the reclamation of arid lands by irrigation was adopted.

A resolution calling upon the Congress to protect owners of mineral lands against a possible loss from encroachments of railroad grants was adopted.

A resolution by Miller of Nebraska declaring that the inter-State commerce law was a hindrance to inter-State commerce was debated and laid over until the next session.

A resolution was adopted recommending that the Democratic and Republican National Conventions be held at Omaha next year, and the Congress adjourned sine die.

Granted a Divorce.

Special to the Journal.

OAKLAND, October 22.—Judge Ellsworth to-day granted a divorce to Mrs. George F. Pratt on the grounds of cruelty. This is the case in which Pratt charged his wife with adultery, naming L. L. Bromwell, President of the California Insurance Co., and one of Oakland's most prominent citizens.

Nearly two years ago Pratt, who was in Bromwell's employ as correspondent, shot and severely wounded Bromwell for alleged adultery with Mrs. Pratt. Pratt was acquitted on the charge of shooting and some time after commenced suit against his wife for a divorce. Mrs. Pratt instituted a counter suit charging cruelty. The case has been on trial for several weeks, and attracted wide attention on the Pacific Coast on account of the prominence of the people implicated. Judge Ellsworth in his decision says he thinks Mrs. Pratt is guilty of adultery as charged by her husband, but as he condoned the offense and lived with her again he could not grant a divorce on that ground. The Judge also found that Pratt had treated his wife cruelly and on that ground he granted her a divorce.

The Train Wreckers.

Special to the Journal.

SACRAMENTO, October 22.—There are sensational developments in the Colfax wrecking case. All this morning officers True and Dyer were in conference in the Sheriff's private office with Al and Jeff Roberts, who were brought here last Saturday on a special from Colfax. It is said that the officers have obtained possession of a letter written by one of the Roberts Brothers in which he confesses that he has been lying to the officers in regard to the crime. He attempted to smuggle the letter out of jail but it was intercepted by the officers. When confronted with his written admission of the crime, Roberts is said to have implicated his brother. Constable Dyer of Colfax said the officers have a dead case against the prisoners. The constable went before Justice Henry about 10 o'clock and had the warrants for the arrest of Al and Jeff Roberts properly certified. The warrants were issued in Placer county and accuse the prisoners of the crime of train wrecking. Both men were returned to Placer county to-day and are now in the county jail at Auburn.

The Wreckers Jailed.

Special to the Journal.

COLFAX, October 22.—Jeff and Al Roberts, accused of train wrecking, were brought up from Sacramento on the noon train to-day by Constable Dyer. They appeared pale and dejected when reaching the depot and seeing acquaintances. They will be closely confined in jail until the time set for the preliminary examination, which will take place before Judge Stevens Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. The accused were handcuffed together and closely guarded. It is said that the boys are angry at each other, and that if left alone in the same cell together they would fight. Al does not seem to mind his confinement much, but Jeff appears very dejected. The jail is closely guarded in order that no one will attempt to release them.

The Cardinal said nothing as yet has been decided about the Pope leaving Rome, but everything is in readiness for such a step.

There is a large attendance of delegates, representing labor organizations and the Farmers' Alliance. H. F. Gardner of Orange county was chosen Chairman. Committees were appointed and President Polk, of the National Alliance, made a parting address. This afternoon the reports of the committees were heard.

Foster on the Stump.

The Secretary devoted some time to the Democratic gerrymanders of various States and particularly their scheme newly introduced in Michigan to elect Presidential electors by congressional districts.

The Presbyterians.

Special to the Journal.

ALBANY, O., October 22.—The Pacific Coast Synod of the United Presbyterian Church met this evening. The opening sermon was preached by Rev. W. W. Logan of Portland, retiring moderator. The attendance at the Synod is very small, the Presbytery of San Francisco being represented by one minister and one delegate, and the Presbytery of Los Angeles by one minister. It is probable that this is the last meeting until the Synod is divided.

THE FIGHT FOR PURE FOOD.

Success of the Efforts to Scotch Bad Baking Powders.

The aggressive war waged by the Royal Baking Powder Company upon the hosts of adulterated and impure baking powders sold throughout the country, is having a desirable effect. The scandalous attacks upon the Royal Company by the manufacturers of the impure goods (which are made, doubtless, both from a spirit of revenge and in the hope of breaking the effect of the damaging exposures, show that they are hit, while the official reports which have come from various public authorities fully corroborating the statements made by the Royal Company, have awakened a wholesome public sentiment in favor of repressive laws, which means mischief to the illegitimate traffic.

The Royal Baking Powder Company set out some time ago to expose the character and to break up the sale of adulterated baking powders. Having found from an examination of many specimens that there was a large number of actually injurious powders in the market, they brought the matter before the public and denounced the makers by name in the press and to health authorities. The affair was taken up by physicians, boards of health and Legislatures throughout the country, chemists were employed to test the various powders in the market, and the Government itself directed analysis to be made before it would purchase the supplies needed for army, navy and Indian uses.

The result justified the charges made by the Royal Company. Not only were the majority of baking powders in the market found to be largely adulterated, but many of them were ascertained to contain alum and other poisonous ingredients to such an extent as to render them positively unsafe for use in human food.

In making the charges the Royal Baking Powder Company did not hesitate to enter into competition with every other baking powder in the country, and it is a public satisfaction that in the official tests by the Government and State chemists, and by boards of health, the Royal Baking Powder has been declared to be the superior of all others in strength, purity and wholesomeness, and absolutely free from all inferior or detrimental substances.

From recent official reports it is evident that the alum and otherwise impure goods have again come upon the market in dangerous quantities, and their old enemy, the Royal, is again upon the warpath. In continuing its war upon these goods, the Royal is meeting with its old-time opposition and abuse. The public, however, will appreciate, as heretofore, both the object of the abuse and the action of the Royal Company, and award full justice to the company that so fearlessly stands up for its protection from such adventurers.

The First to Act.

The Tribune says: On Monday the various counties of the State were notified by the State Board of Equalization that all the individual raises were off, that each county is given a horizontal raise, and that the raise shall affect railroad corporations the same as private parties. The Lyon County Commissioners at once reduced the levy 20 cents, thereby relieving the people of the effects of the raise except as applied to State taxes. The action of the State Board meets now with general approval. What will Ormsby do?

A Valuable Colt.

Theodore Winters has refused $10,000 for his six-months-old colt Yo El Rey, sired by Joe Hooker, dam, Marion. Yo El Rey is entered in the Matron Stake race at the World's Fair in 1893, which is worth $125,000, also in the Futurity Stake the same year at Westchester, New York, which will be worth to the winner $75,000. This colt can be seen at the race track where he and his mother, Marion, are quartered for the Winter.

Free Water.

Parties in Reno having good wells or a place for one are throwing away money in paying water rates, when by a small investment plenty of pure water is at their command free of cost. One good well will supply water for several families, who by joining in the expense of erecting a wind-mill, tank, etc., can not only effect a saving in expenses, but be independent of a monopolizing water service. A visit to the Water Company's reservoir and ditch at times will convince the most skeptical that well water is the doctor's enemy, while surface water is the direct agent in bringing business to his office.

Constant pumping insures pure water from all good wells, hence the quality of well water cannot be judged properly from only occasional pumpings. Many unused wells would furnish plenty of pure, clear water if properly pumped.

Can you afford a pumping plant of your own? We will answer for you, Yes.

We are prepared to take contracts this Winter to erect any sized wind-mill plant required, with proper tank and service connection, furnishing them on a monthly installment plan, warranting all work and taking proper care of all mills so erected.

Plans and specifications free upon application. Anti-freezing pumps and protected pipes insure equally as good Winter service as in Summer. For further particulars call on

Lack of Skilled Agricultural Labor.

The Bulletin says: According to a recent statement of Secretary Rusk, American consumers pay annually $250,000,000 for products which could and ought to be grown at home. That sum represents the lack of skilled agricultural labor in the United States. Except tea, coffee and spices, every article of importance consumed in this country, ought to be produced from the soil. The time ought not to be far distant when no agricultural product that can be produced in the United States, will be bought from foreign countries. The Secretary hits the nail on the head when he suggests that a younger generation of skilled cultivators of the soil will come forward in the next twenty years who will meet many of the new demands of agriculture.

THE ROMANCE OF ROUMANIA.

The Crown Prince Ferdinand and Mlle. Vucarese.

The charms of the lady of the picture, Mlle. Vucarese, maid of honor to the Queen of Roumania, made a victim of the Crown Prince Ferdinand, who avowed his love, his mother sanctioning the avowal. Opposed to the match was the prudent King, who was supported on all hands by the Roumanian people. They could not afford that their future King should wed outside the regal circle. Accordingly, Mlle. Vucarese was removed from the court, as it appeared that Ferdinand would never be made King if he persisted in his intention to marry his love. To make even this sacrifice the Crown Prince was willing and wrote Mlle. Vucarese that he was ready to forego the royal succession rather than to lose her. The young lady, who seems to be a cooler-headed person than the Prince, wrote him that it would be better for him to wait and see what time would do in their behalf. So the matter stands, and as "everybody loves a lover," everybody is hoping that the Crown Prince Ferdinand of Roumania will become King Ferdinand, and that his throne will be shared by the lady of his choice.

Science in Bread Making.

At the recent annual meeting of the American Chemical Society, held in Washington, D. C., the question of the value of carbonate of ammonia as a leavening agent in bread, or as used in baking powders came up for discussion, in which Professor Barker, of the University of Pennsylvania, and President of the Society; Dr. Richardson, late of the United States Department of Agriculture in Washington; Dr. Wm. McMurtrie, late Professor of Chemistry in the University of Illinois; Dr. E. H. Bartley, late chemist of the Brooklyn, N. Y., Board of Health, and Professor of Chemistry of the Long Island College, and others took part.

The consensus of opinion was overwhelming in favor of the employment of ammonia. It was stated as a fact that ammonia rendered the gluten of the flour more soluble than the original gluten, and that the bread in which this action was produced by carbonate of ammonia made more digestible and hence more healthful, and because of the extreme volatility of carbonate of ammonia and its complete expulsion from the bread in the process of baking, it is one of the most useful, most healthful and most valuable leavening agents known.

These conclusions are borne out by the very elaborate and exhaustive experiments made by Professor J. W. Mallet of the University of Virginia, which show conclusively that the bread made with a baking powder in which one per cent. of carbonate of ammonia is used, in connection with cream of tartar and soda, is not only of uniformly better color and texture, but a product more wholesome, because the ammonia serves to neutralize any organic or lactic acids present in the flour.

The Anaconda Mine.

A dispatch from Butte, Montana, says: Within ten days the famous Anaconda copper mine will be in full blast. Last Spring the mine was shut down. Two reasons were given for this. One was that Haggin, believing that he owned and controlled the bulk of the copper in the world, closed down in order to corner it. The other reason was the railroad, which runs from Anaconda over to Butte, a distance of twenty-five miles, had concluded to charge Haggin its own rate for conveying the ore from the mine to Butte, where it is made ready for market. This Haggin would not consent to, and he closed the mine. From what is considered a pretty reliable source of information, it is asserted that within the next ten days two thousand men will be put to work in the construction of a new line from Butte City to the mine. This done, a new road will be built to Boise City, the intention being to extend it ultimately to the Pacific Coast.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a tea-spoonful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circular and testimonials. Address, F. J. Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Royal Baking Powder
ABSOLUTELY PURE

A Promising Nevada Industry.

A few months ago the farmers of Carson Valley were talking of plowing up their alfalfa fields, as hay was such a drag on the market that it could not be sold. Since the advent of the creamery in the valley, the farmers are not in such a hurry to plow up their fields. They find they can make more money feeding the hay to cows and selling the milk to the creamery.

It has been running but a few weeks and is already such a success that the managers are deluged with letters from San Francisco calling for more butter. The butter is absolutely gilt-edged and the residents of Nob Hill will have nothing else on their tables. It is sold as fast as it is exposed on the counters, and the merchants who handle it say they can't get enough. It sells for 25 cents a pound here, but the San Francisco consumers have run the price up to 38 cents a pound, and it will be 40 or 50 before long. This is certainly very encouraging to the creamery managers, and also to the farmers. It is estimated that in the Spring the creamery can ship a ton a day to San Francisco, and it will be snapped up as fast as shipped.

Now it would seem that if a creamery does well in Carson Valley, it would do even better in Mason Valley, where the Winters are milder, and the cost of keeping stock merely nominal. Hay is now a drug in Mason Valley at $2, and if it were fed to the cows and the butter shipped to San Francisco, it would make the hay worth $5 a ton or more.—Carson Appeal.

The Law Set Aside.

The Treasury Department at Washington has come to the rescue of the Chinese who have been shut out of the country by the terms of the recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States. The following dispatch was received by Collector Phelps yesterday:

If satisfied that Chinese now detained are legally entitled to land except for absence of certificates required by law, you may land them upon their giving bonds to produce such certificates within four months, it being understood that they have complied with the law as they understood it at the time of their departure.

O. L. SPAULDING, Acting Secretary.

Washington, October 20, 1891.

Collector Phelps had decided, prior to the receipt of the message at noon yesterday, that he would send back every Chinaman arriving here on the steamer Oceanic, now due. He says that the only thing he can do now is to examine the applicants for landing, and if they come within the law to place them under $400 cash bail each, or a bond indorsed by the Chinese Consulate. It was his original intention to land only citizens, diplomats and merchants carrying the Chinese certificates.—Bulletin.

Color Blindness
An English engineer, forty years of age, was dismissed from his situation because he was unable to correctly distinguish colors. Dr. M. Reich, who examined the man, and who afterward published the results of his examinations in a Russian paper, found sight, focus and sensation of light normal, and discovered no disease by the ophthalmoscope, yet the patient could distinguish no colors when of a dark shade, and only yellow and blue when of a light shade. The patient assured Dr. Reich that he had been able to distinguish colors correctly and with confidence up to the summer of 1888. He said that through overexertion and insufficiency of sleep he had then suffered from violent headache for two weeks, and that afterward he saw everything as if it were red. The latter symptom had continued for three months, after which time he had lost all sensation of color. In the beginning of May, 1890, he presented himself again, declaring that he had perfectly regained the power to distinguish colors. A thorough examination completely confirmed the assurance given by the patient, who was consequently again fit for service. Dr. Reich believes that "erythropsy" is due to central mischief. The case seems to show that sensation of color is perfectly independent of the physiological function. —New York Ledger.

Metal Protected by Oil.
If the method of charging cottonseed oil with lead, which is said to have been discovered, is found practicable, the value of that abundant product will be greatly increased. The process as at present defined is of the utmost simplicity. One gallon of pure cottonseed oil is placed in a suitable iron vessel, into which twenty pounds of molten lead are poured. After a thorough stirring the lead separates into globules, and when the oil has been poured off, after cooling there is found to be about seventeen pounds of lead, the remainder having been absorbed by the oil.
On the lead being again melted and the operation repeated to the fifth pouring—the amount of lead absorbed being less at each succeeding pouring—the total amount of lead absorbed is about ten pounds. The oil thus charged with lead is then used as a paint, being applied in the ordinary way to metallic surfaces. It is claimed that this liquid, which adheres closely and becomes very hard, is especially useful in protecting metals from oxidation or corrosion. —New York Telegram

Killing an Artist's Pet.
A little story is told of Du Maurier, the well known artist or Punch, the Englishman's materialized idea of wit, humor and burlesque. The artist lives in a beautiful country home near London, and one of his pet views is from his study window across his own lawn out beyond to the landscape surrounding Harrow. An American, of America to the west, recently visited him for a day, and Mr. Du Maurier was showing his guest about the place.
"There," he said, coming to his favorite window, "is the prettiest thing of all. That is Harrow."
The American looked out for a minute or two.
"Harrow?" he said inquiringly.
"Yes," repeated the artist, "Harrow."
"Is that so?" questioned the visitor.
"Well, now, do you know, I took it for a lawn mower."
And he wasn't joking, either. He had overlooked the landscape entirely, and was looking at an agricultural machine on the lawn, and the artist's heart was broken. —Detroit Free Press.

Queer Superstitions.
If you pay out money on Monday morning you will pay out money all the rest of the week. It is unlucky to spill salt at the table, and to rub a hunchback will bring luck to any immediate project you have in view. To leave the house and then suddenly return to it is considered a bad omen. This is a very old superstition, but a common one with us. Lucretia refers to it in her letter to Proteus, after he had left for the Trojan war.
Some years ago I asked a neighbor to haul a dead horse from the premises. He declared that if he did so one of his own horses would die within the year. I reasoned him out of the superstition and he removed the horse. Strange to say, one of the span of horses which he used for the purpose died shortly afterward. —Philadelphia Ledger

Ammonia Poisoning
No poison brings death with more maddening agony than ammonia, but that fact does not seem to discourage the suicide. The man Harrowitz, who deliberately swallowed a fatal dose of the drug in New York, is only one of the many who have gone the execrable route to death in spite of the excruciating pain. Dr. Blyth has recorded thirty cases of ammonia poisoning in the small London district of which he is health officer. Professor Mitchell mentions twenty-two cases, and four have occurred during the short time Dr. Jenkins has been connected with the corner's office in New York. —Exchange

A Mean Bridegroom.
Dr. Howard, of Flatbush, L. I., was routed out at midnight to marry a couple and was compelled to arouse his family to act as witnesses. He was given a fat package by the bridegroom, upon the latter's departure. The good doctor spent half an hour or so unwinding paper after paper from that package only to find at last a silver quarter which had been used as a sleeve button. One face had been ground smooth and ornamented with a monogram. —New York World.

BACILLI IN BLOOD.
Recent experiments as read before the last Congress of Surgeons at Berlin, leave no doubt that the true way to CLEAR THE SYSTEM OF MICROBI is through the pores of the skin. It has been found that a remedy which kills the Microbi will also destroy the life of the patient; but it has also been found that the Microbi can be forced out through the skin, and it is in this way that S.S.S. relieves the system of poison.

HAVING SUFFERED much from Contagious Blood Poison, after using half a dozen bottles of S.S.S. I was RESTORED TO PERFECT HEALTH, and all eruptive sores disappeared. You are at liberty to make any use of my statement that you wish. —J. CROSBY BYRON, 208 Third Avenue, Pittsburg, Pa.
